THE TORPOR WHICH HAS FALLEN UPON AMERICAN POLITICS."

Bulgarian Independence—Spanish-English Trenty-Spread of Cholera-Earth Tremors in Germany-Bicycle Drill

LONDON, Oct. 13 .- The Times publishes a leader commenting on the Henry George movement and on the torpor which it says has fallen upon American politics, and which it pronounces unexampled. "The Republean revolt," continues the paper, "which brought Mr. Cleveland toto power, was, in its way, as remarkable as the national uprising in England against Mr. Gladstone's abuse of his unequaled power and the confidence reposed in him by his countrymen. In both cases the wrench was severe and was faced with the utmost reluctance, and in both cases there was a moral emandipation, and the disappointment of the defeared parties, who placed party above every other consideration, was cruelly bitter. The appearance of Mr. George as a candidate for the mayorality of New York marks the introduction into America of the characteristic tactics of Paraellism. Americans tell us confidentially that this fooling with anarchy will not be tolerated. We hope it may be so, for the sake of civilization and the world's prosperity."

after made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, with large liabilities and small aslets. The order from the court was based on proof being produced of his having misappropriated trust funds, to the amount of $25,000, his answer. It is generally believed that Mr. Hewitt has declined the nomination for mayor. Mr. Bourke Cockran, of the committee, would only say that there had been a discussion, and that the committee would receive an answer later in the day.

The address of the Tammany committee sppointed to tender the mayoralty nomination to Congressman Hewitt was made public to-night. It says:

At this moment our city is the theater of a movement on the part of some of our fellow-citiens which may lead to serious and deplosable results. We have observed, with great regret and serious diquiet, this attempt to create a political class in this country. In a government of and by the whole paonle we deplore an attempt to creat a government of or by a part of the people. We believe that government by trades unions would be as reprehensible and as objectionable as government which is founded on the consect and supported by the loyalty of the rich and of the poor, the learned and the unlearned, the capitals and the laborer. We believe that your candidacy will defeat the effort to create a distinctive class in the community and result in the return to the Democrate party of those who have been tempted to desert it by dangerous and misleading advice.

LATER—When the committee called upon Mr. Hewitt again late this afternoon he told them that he would give his answer to them after the meeting of the county convention of the County Democracy. This convention will meet on Thursday night.

RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 13 .- The delegates to the general assembly of the Knights of Labor were early afoot this morning, and unusually prompt in their attendance at Armory Hall, where the sessions are held. The most important work of the convention was begun yesterday, when the general master workman declared amendments to the constitution in order, and was sustained in his decision by the assembly des-pite the objections of a few. This work of amending the constitution was resumed this morning, and prosecuted throughout the session.

The proposed amendment to the constitution extending to two years the terms of all general officers excepting those of the members of the co-operative board was taken up and adopted. The terms of members of the co-operative board remain as at present.

Changes in the constitution require a twothirds vote for their adoption and the galiing of the roll of S12 delegates consumed a good deal of time. When that matter had good deal of time. When that matter had been disposed of the regular order of busi-ness was suspended and the general as-sembly proceeded to the election of general MR. POWDERLY RE-ELECTED.

It came from Henry Beckmeyer, who heads the delegation from District Assembly 51, of New Jersey. This delegation wears a yellow badge with the motto, "solid for harmony." There was no candidate placed in nomination in opposition to Mr. Powderly, and he received the votes of the 647 delegates present.

Clinton B. Fisk, president of the board of Indian commissioners, was unanimously elected chairman. The following are the secretaries: Joshua W. Davis, of Boston: J. C. Kinney, of Hariford, and Miss Alice Robertson, of the Indian territory. The following committee was appointed to arrange the general business of the conference: Philip C. Garret, of Peansylvania; Erastus Brooks, of New York; Dr. Merrill E. Gates, of New York; Dr. Merrill E. Gates, of New York; Dr. Merrill E. Gates, of New York; Dr. Merrill L. Strieby, secretary of the American Missionary Association, of New York, and H. O. Houghton, of Boston.

Gen. Fisk reported the work of the special committee appointed at the last conference to visit President Cleveland, and said they were cordially received and were greatly gratified at the interest exhibited in the work of Indian education and development. He requested a statement of the sims of the conference, which was furnished him, and to a considerable extent made use of by him in the preparation of his annual message. Gen. Fisk said that the bills which the conference deemed most valuable were all passed by the Senate, largely through the efforts of Senator Dawes. In the House, however, little or nothing was done, the cause of the Indian, after having been assigned a day, being sacrificed to the interests of oleomargarine. The morning session was devoted to brief addresses on the present outlook of the Indian question, the speakers giving the results of personal observations during the past year.

Mr. Joshua W. Davis, of Boston, spoke of a visit to reservotions west of the Rocky sults of personal observations during the past year.

Mr. Joahua W. Davis, of Boston, spoke of a visit to reservations west of the Rocky Mcuntains. He found great cause for encouragement in Idaho in the interest exhibited in agricultural pursuits. The Mission Indians in California he found in a deplorable condition, and in need of immediate relief. Although the President had urged action by Congress, and although all the facts were told by Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson, with her dying appeal for their relief, the national House had done nothing for them.

Prof. Painter and Gen. Whittlesey referred to the same subject, and said there was no excuse for the inaction of the House, as all the facts had been laid before that body by the President, Secretary Lamar, and Commissioner Atkins with earnest recommendations for speedy action.

Mr. Erastus Brooks expressed the belief that, as the bills passed by the Senate are now on the House calendar reported favorably, they would receive favorable action early during the coming session of Congress.

Miss Elaine Goodale gave a brief but highly interesting narrative of her recent visit to the Sioux reservation, and of the many encouragements to be found. She spoke especially of the good records of the Indian children educated at castern schools, especially those of her own acquaintance in Hampton. She also warmly favored the day school system on the reservation, giving instances of the good work which she had witnessed. Miss Helen Ludiow, of Hampton, Va., spuke to the same general effect.

The first address of the evening session was by Hon. Philip C. Garrett, of Philadelphia, commissioner of charities for Pennsylvania. He spoke on Indian citizenship as one of the most practical solutions of the Indian Rights Association, followed with an address on the present situation of the Indian question.

address on the present situation of the Indian question.

Mr. Erastus Brooks made a vigorous reply to what he regarded as Mr. Wetsh's unfair criticism of the administration. He said there was no one here to present the other side of the case—if there was another side. He was sure that all those who were with him on the committee from the last Mohonk conference which visited Washington were convinced of the hearty sympathy of the President and Secretary Lamar in the cause of Indian civilization.

Mr. Smiley replied that every effort had been made to secure a representative for the Indian department, and they still had reason to expect such a representative.

been made to secure a representative for the Indian department, and they still had reason to expect such a representative.

Prof. Painter, of Washington; President Magill, of Swarthmore Collere; Mr. Barstow, of Rhode Island, and President Fisk took the ground that Mr. Welsh's criticism was not aimed at the administration, but at the system under which such abuses as he had shown could exist. The remedy is in the extension of the civil service system.

Mr. Welsh said he knew he should be criticised for his statement. A few years sgo, when he criticised the acts of Secretary Teller and President Arthur, he was denounced as a Democratic partisan, and the Indian Rights' Association was similarly denounced. He had stated simple facts. He did not touch upon motives. But he believed the great need of the time was to reform the system, and the best way to bring that about was to show the public the abuses existing. The President and the Secretary were the victims of the system.

The Nationals at Georgetown-Game Elsewhere - Horse Races - Bievele Records Broken-Game of Foot Ball-Other Sporting Items.

The League season now being at an end, comparison concerning the merits and de-merits of the players engaged by League teams are going the rounds of the press, and while Washington cannot boast of a team that has won fame and glory in the base ball championship contest during 1885, still there is reason to believe that, during the coming sesson, with proper management, the home representatives will make the leaders hustle, and in proof of this statement the work of the local club during the past month will amply testify.

The NATIONAL REPUBLICAN predicted yesterday the entire reserve list of the Nationals, with the exception of Goldsby, who, it is gratifying to see, has been reserved, and the official list, as promulgated by Secretary Young yesterday afternoon, comprises, for the home team, the following players: B. Gilligan, J. T. Medione, C. Mack, George Schoch, John Farrell, F. Gillmore, P. A. Hines, W. F. Kreig, F. L. Shaw, C. Carroll, H. O'Day, W. H. Goldsby, Although Henry does not appear on the reserve list, his valuable services will be given to the Nationals during 1897, as he has signed a contract without being reserved. That Houck and Baker are not among the players engaged is to be regretted but proposely before the largest blayer. served. That Houck and Baker are not among the players engaged is to be regretted, but probably before the flowers bloom in the spring the local management may conclude to secure their services. Baker and Houck are too valuable to remain idle, and their loss from the Nationals will probably result in gain to some other club or clubs.

which Mrs. Cleveland extends hospitality and the matroely kindness which inspires her actions when little children visit her.

Several days ago Mr. Milton Stuart, in company with his brother and little daughter Ettle, arrived in this city from his home in Liverpool, England, and stopped at the Riggs House. The little girl, though having seen but ten summers, is a very intelligent juvenile traveler, and took great interest in seeing the sights of the capital. But she had a great desire to see the wife of the American President, and, not knowing how her object could be accomplished, determined to make a personal application for the favor. She kept her peace and composed a letter to Mrs. Cleveland, in which she said she was a little English girl, and that, as her mother had been presented to the queen, she wished to meet the first lady of this country, and hoped she might be given the privilege before she crossed the ocean again. This she mailed with some misgivings as to the answer as would receive, but was destined to be greatly surprised and delighted. On Toesday morning the answer came, and when the envelope marked "Executive Mansion" was forn open the missive within told her that Mrs. Cleveland would be very pleased to have her come to see her that afternoon. Little Miss Ettle bustled about very busily, and with remembrances of descriptions of the formal receptions which the queen gave made quite an elaborate preparation for the great event, and went over to the white house. She told the usher who she was, and a card bearing her name was taken in to Mrs. Cleveland. What was her surprise on being shown in to be received in about the same manner she would have been welcomed by her mother. Little Ettle was given a warm hug and a kiss, and told she was very welcome indeed. She was quite dazed at this, but it was only a preface to more graciousness that was to follow. Her hostess entered into conversation with her freely, and took great inters it in hearing all about the child's home and homefolks. She was then sh

Mrs. Cleveland for the favor she had shown the little English girl, and assuring her that she would henceforth occupy a large place in their affections, and that they would at-ways think of her with the same love they bore their sovereign. This cablegram Mr. Stuart embodied in a letter which he mailed to Mrs. Cleveland last evening, and which also expressed his own gratification at the hospitality tendered his little girl.

A NEW POOL CONTRACT. association of All Southern Railroads -Settlement of Passenger Rates-War on Scalpers.

New York, Oct. 13 .- The general mana-New York, Oct. 13.—The general managers and general passenger agents of the southern railroads held an important meeting to-day at the Hotel Brunswick. At the meeting in August, which was held at Old Point Comfort, a new pool contract settling its passenger rates was submitted, but was not acted upon. This contract was approved and signed at to-day's meeting by the general managers. This contract forms an association of all the southern roads, and settles the passenger rates to be charged by the members of the pool. Each road is to be assessed pro rate for the money to carry on the association, according to the mileage of each road. A rate committee is provided for, and is made up of the general passenger agents.

The duty of this committee is to see that is provided for, and is made up of the general passenger agents.

The duty of this committee is to see that no member of the association charges less than the schedule rates. Any agent found guilty of this offense will be fined $50, and if caught a second time dismissed from the road by which he is employed. The passenger agents will hold a special meeting and settle upon the question of rates to be charged from all points on the road. Another question of great importance which is to be discussed is the rates to be charged from the large cities in the cast, and especially New York, Boston, and Palladelphia, to the winter recorts in Florida. The from the large cities in the east, and especially New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, to the winter resorts in Florida. The traffic over the roads to points in Florida. The traffic over than doubled during the last two years. Some of the agents are in favor of continuing the sale of round trip tickets, while others are disposed to favor a chapthrough rate. The object of this is to try and stop the sale of tickets to these points by scalines.

The evils of the liquor traffic, as embodied in the American saloon system, have reached a magnitude and a degree of destructiveness that threatens the foundations of government, society, and home. The time has come when political perities and private citizens muettake idea for or against the traffic. Neutrality is impossible, indifference is a heirayal of the trust involved in catizenship.
